

Ella Hartt ♥ Bio

Ella Hartt grew up on the prairies with a family who shared a love for music. Born and raised in Edmonton, Alberta, Ella has always immersed herself in the performance arts, including singing and dancing. As an urban cowgirl, she has learned to value aspects of city and country life. While she grew to appreciate all genres of music, the lyrics and melodies of country music spoke specifically to Ella's heart. Among others, Randy Travis, Alan Jackson, and Shania Twain have remained influential throughout Ella's life.

Ella's interest in songwriting began in her early teens and has continued to grow into adulthood as she writes songs independently and with other songwriters across Canada, the United States and South Korea. Over the past 10 years, she has used songwriting as a creative outlet to share her life experiences. She seeks to bring people together from all walks of life with her catchy and relatable songs.

Ella Hartt's debut single, "Where Is That Guy", was released October 12, 2017 to online music distributors. As she would say, "Who wouldn't want a guy to take you dancing on Saturday night?" Ella is currently a member of the Canadian Country Music Association and is a partner in Alta Rose Music, a Canadian based publishing company.